REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The Terminal Disclaimers filed July 17, 2006 and July 21, 2006, respectively, have overcome the rejection set forth in the Office action sent June 9, 2006.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

While the cited reference of Rose (6,589,114) teaches a shuffle feature for a game of chance; and the cited reference of Vazquez, Jr. et al. (4,695,053) teaches a gaming device having player selectable winning combinations; Rose and/or Vazquez, Jr. et al., alone or in combination, does not anticipate or make obvious the applicant's claimed limitations of a gaming device comprising an original award having a plurality of digits, said original award resulting from a gaming event played by a player and wherein the digits indicate an amount of the original award; a plurality of different award modification methods, wherein a first one of the award modification methods includes individually adding a digit to the digits of the original award (as per claims 1, 9, 23, 29, and 30), in combination with other presented limitations; or a gaming device comprising an original award having a plurality of digits displayed by the display device, said original award resulting from a gaming event played by a player and wherein the digits indicate an amount of the original award; and a processor which communicates with the display device, which removes a digit from the digits of the original award, displays a new award without the removed digit and provides the new award to a player, wherein the digits of the original award with the digit removed indicate the amount of the new award (as per claims 16 and 30), in combination with other presented limitations.

Claims 1 and 3-31, therefore, are allowable.
